

T-Rex On Wheels

THE T-REX LOOKS like a mini-roadster, but it's really a three-wheeled motorcycle. Standard equipment includes seat belts, a roll cage and a low center of gravity that makes it tough to tip over. Manufacturer Campagna Motosport of Canada calls it the safest motorcycle on the road. Good thing: Its Kawasaki engine screams up to 12,000 r.p.m. as it catapults drivers from 0 to 60 miles per hour in 4.1 seconds. The price of performance: about $43,000. www.go-t-rex.com

—Brian O'Malley